

Rites of Origin: A Taoist Celebration. A 30-minute color-sound videotape. Camera and Editor, CARL HEFNER, Department of Anthropology, University of Hawaii. Director, Dr. Michael Saso, Professor of Chinese Religions, Department of Religion, University of Hawaii 96822, USA.

The Taoist Festival Chiao, Festival of Community Renewal, recorded on this videotape, was performed in Honolulu at the Wong-tin Tin-hu Temple on Kuakini Street, from December 12-16, 1979. Local Chinese had invited the Chuang brothers from Hsinchu City to perform the rituals. They are the same brothers who appear in Saso's book on the Teachings of Taoist Master Chuang. New Haven: Yale University, 1978. The rites include music, classical dance, chant and the Fapiao, Ch'ing-shen, Su-ch'i, Fen-teng, Sung-piao, Fang Shui-teng, and Tao-ch'ang ceremonies from the Taoist Canon, dating back to the fourth century A.D.—The video-tape is available through Professor Michael Saso, Department of Religion, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, HI 96822.
